

Chander Shekhar Vs. Mohan Lal

Cr. Revision No. 389 of 2022

27.02.2025 Present: None.

As per the office report,ailable warrants issued against the petitioner have been received back, after due execution. Despite execution of the warrants neither petitioner nor his surety have bothered to appear in the Court. Waited sufficiently. Further wait is not justifiable.

Let non-ailable warrants be issued against the petitioner, returnable for 3rd April, 2025.

In addition to this, proceedings, under Section 491 of the BNSS (446 Cr.PC) are also ordered to be initiated against the petitioner, as well as, his surety.

Notice, under Section 491 of the BNSS (446 Cr.PC), be also issued to the petitioner, as well as, his surety, for the date fixed to show cause as to why the personal and surety bonds so furnished be not cancelled.
