HON'BLE MR. JUSTICE ANIL KUMAR CHOUDHARY

By the Court:- Heard the parties.

2. This Criminal Miscellaneous Petition has been filed invoking the jurisdiction of this Court under Section 528 of the B.N.S.S., 2023 with a prayer to quash the entire criminal proceeding including entire FIR and Charge Sheet in connection with Borio (J) P.S. Case No.358 of 2021 corresponding to G.R. Case No.405 of 2022 in which after completion of investigation, police submitted charge sheet inter alia against the petitioners for having committed the offences punishable under Section 323, 504 and 34 of the Indian Penal Code and the said case is now pending before the learned Chief Judicial Magistrate, Sahibganj.

3. Learned counsel for the petitioners and learned counsel for the opposite party No.2 jointly draw the attention of this Court towards Interlocutory Application No.12295 of 2025, which is supported by the separate affidavits of the opposite party No.2/informant and the petitioner no.3- who is duly authorized by the other petitioners also, that therein it has categorically been mentioned that the matter has been compromised and both the parties have settled their dispute and they do not want to proceed case. It is next jointly submitted that good sense has prevailed between the parties, after intervention of the friends as well as the well-wishers and the dispute between the parties has been settled. It is next submitted that because of confusion, the informant has given the name of the petitioners by mistake, but later on he came to know about the reality and then realized her mistake. It is next submitted that the parties have restored the good faith and confidence and now does not want to contest the case. Learned counsel for the petitioners next submits that in view of the compromise between the parties, the continuation of this criminal proceeding will amount to abuse of process of law, as in view of the compromise, the chances of conviction of the petitioners are remote and bleak. Hence, it is submitted that the entire criminal proceeding including entire FIR and Charge Sheet in connection with Borio (J) P.S. Case No.358 of 2021 corresponding to G.R. Case No.405 of 2022, be quashed and set aside.

4. Learned Addl.P.P. appearing for the State submits that in view of the compromise between the parties, the State has no serious objection for quashing the entire criminal proceeding including entire FIR and Charge Sheet in connection with Borio (J) P.S. Case No.358 of 2021 corresponding to G.R. Case No.405 of 2022.

5. Having heard the rival submissions made at the Bar and after carefully going through the materials available in the record, it is pertinent to mention here that the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India in the case of Parbatbhai Aahir @ Parbatbhai Bhimsinhbhai Karmur & Others vs. State of Gujarat & Another reported in (2017) 9 SCC 641, had the occasion to consider the jurisdiction of the High Court under Section 482 of Code of Criminal Procedure inter alia on the basis of compromise between the parties and has held in paragraph No.11 as under:-

“11. Section 482 is prefaced with an overriding provision. The statute saves the inherent power of the High Court, as a superior court, to make such orders as are necessary (i) to prevent an abuse of the process of any court; or (ii) otherwise to secure the ends of justice. In Gian Singh [Gian Singh v. State of Punjab, (2012) 10 SCC 303 : (2012) 4 SCC (Civ) 1188 : (2013) 1 SCC (Cri) 160 : (2012) 2 SCC (L&S) 988] a Bench of three learned Judges of this Court adverted to the body of precedent on the subject and laid down guiding principles which the High Court should consider in determining as to whether to quash an FIR or complaint in the exercise of the inherent jurisdiction. The considerations which must weigh with the High Court are : (SCC pp. 342-43, para 61)

“61. ... the power of the High Court in quashing a criminal proceeding or FIR or complaint in exercise of its inherent jurisdiction is distinct and different from the power given to a criminal court for compounding the offences under Section 320 of the Code. Inherent power is of wide plenitude with no statutory limitation but it has to be exercised in accord with the guideline engrafted in such power viz. : (i) to secure the ends of justice, or (ii) to prevent abuse of the process of any court. In what cases power to quash the criminal proceeding or complaint or FIR may be exercised where the offender and the victim have settled their dispute would depend on the facts and circumstances of each case and no category can be prescribed. However, before exercise of such power, the High Court must have due regard to the nature and gravity of the crime. Heinous and serious offences of mental depravity or offences like murder, rape, dacoity, etc. cannot be fittingly quashed even though the victim or victim's family and the offender have settled the dispute. Such offences are not private in nature and have a serious impact on society. Similarly, any compromise between the victim and the offender in relation to the offences under special statutes like the Prevention of Corruption Act or the offences committed by public servants while working in that capacity, etc.; cannot provide for any basis for quashing criminal proceedings involving such offences. But the criminal cases having overwhelmingly and predominatingly civil flavour stand on a different footing for the purposes of quashing, particularly the offences arising from commercial, financial, mercantile, civil, partnership or such like transactions or the offences arising out of matrimony relating to dowry, etc. or the family disputes where the wrong is basically private or personal in nature and the parties have resolved their entire dispute. In this category of cases, the High Court may quash the criminal proceedings if in its view, because of the compromise between the offender and the victim, the possibility of conviction is remote and bleak and continuation of the criminal case would put the accused to great oppression and prejudice and extreme injustice would be caused to him by not quashing the criminal case despite full and complete settlement and compromise with the victim. In other words, the High Court must consider whether it would be unfair or contrary to the interest of justice to continue with the criminal proceeding or continuation of the criminal proceeding would tantamount to abuse of process of law despite settlement and compromise between the victim and the wrongdoer and whether to secure the ends of justice, it is appropriate that the criminal case is put to an end and if the answer to the above question(s) is in the affirmative, the High Court shall be well within its jurisdiction to quash the criminal proceeding." (Emphasis supplied)"

6. Perusal of the record reveals that the offences involved in this case are not heinous offences nor is there any serious offence of mental depravity involved in this case rather the same relates to private dispute between the parties.

7. Because of the complete settlement between the offender and the victim, the possibility of conviction of the petitioners are remote and bleak and continuation of the criminal case would put the petitioners to great oppression and prejudice and extreme injustice would be caused to him by not quashing the criminal case despite full and complete settlement and compromise with the victim.

8. Hence, this Court is of the considered view that this is a fit case where the entire criminal proceeding including entire FIR and Charge Sheet in connection with Borio (J) P.S. Case No.358 of 2021 corresponding to G.R. Case No.405 of 2022, as prayed for by the petitioners, be quashed and set aside.

9. Accordingly, the entire criminal proceeding including entire FIR and Charge Sheet in connection with Borio (J) P.S. Case No.358 of 2021 corresponding to G.R. Case No.405 of 2022 is quashed and set aside against the petitioner.

10. In the result, this Cr.M.P. stands allowed.

11. In view of disposal of the instant Cr.M.P., I.A. No.12295 of 2025 stands disposed of accordingly.
