

MISC. CASE NO.438 OF 2015

9 25.2.2019

Heard learned counsel for the parties.

Admittedly, the property involved herein is in possession of the decree holder. The petitioners in filing the Miscellaneous Application even though have indicated the cost for being appointed as receiver, their Counsel at the time of argument submits that he will now take instruction as to whether his clients are ready to deposit the amount as indicated or not. The application having been filed with affidavit indicating the cost, this Court finds, the respondent-petitioners are showing interest in the matter of appointment of receiver and simply wasting time of the Court, for which the Misc. Case for appointment of receiver stands rejected.
