HON'BLE MR. JUSTICE KULDEEP MATHUR

Order

07/05/2026

1. The instant miscellaneous interim appeal under Section 14-A of the SC/ST Act, 1989 has been filed on behalf of the appellant seeking interim bail on the ground that after the demise of the appellant's uncle, the festival of Eid is being celebrated for the first time in his family and, as per family custom, all family members assemble together to celebrate the said festival.
2. In the opinion of this Court, the festival of Eid has already passed long back and, even otherwise, the ground urged for seeking interim bail cannot be said to constitute such an emergent circumstance warranting grant of interim bail to the appellant, who is facing trial for the offence of murder of one Kishnaram. Therefore, no case for grant of interim bail is made out in the present matter.

3. Accordingly, the interim bail application preferred on behalf of the appellant stands rejected.
