3. On the basis of factual report, learned Public Prosecutor accepts the factum of compromise having been entered into between the parties without fear and coercion.

4. Learned counsel for the complainant submits that the complainant has no objection if the FIR in question is quashed.

5. In view of the aforesaid and considering the submissions made on behalf of the respective parties, as well as the material available on record, this Court is of the opinion that although the allegations in the impugned FIR pertain to house-trespass by night, assault, and outraging the modesty of the wife of respondent No. 3, the parties have amicably resolved their dispute and have entered into a voluntary compromise, which has been duly verified by the Investigating Officer. In the peculiar facts and circumstances of the case, and in order to maintain peace and harmony between the parties and to secure the ends of justice by giving quietus to the litigation, this Court considers it expedient to quash the impugned FIR and all consequential proceedings arising therefrom.
