Order

01/05/2026

1. Learned counsel for the appellant seeks withdrawal of the instant appeal, but at the same time, implores for issuance of certain directions by exercising inherent powers vested in this Court.
2. Accordingly, the instant appeal as well as stay petition is disposed of with the following directions:-

"(1) Since, it is not in dispute that as on date, the appellant is in possession of the suit property, therefore, it is ordered for caution that he shall not be ejected from the suit property, except in accordance with and following the due process of law.

(2) That the appellant would be at liberty to move an appropriate application before the appropriate authority for regularization of the house in possession as per the governing rules. Upon doing so, it is expected from the authorities that if his case falls within any of category or four corners of the statutory provision or rules made thereunder, the same shall be considered accordingly.”
