Heard.

Considering that the petition seeks to challenge validity and constitutionality of a central enactment, Union of India would be a necessary party, which has not been impleaded.

This petition, without impleadment of Union of India, would not be maintainable. However, before dismissing the petition on that ground, we grant the petitioner one opportunity to implead Union of India by moving appropriate application within two weeks, failing which the petition shall stand dismissed automatically without further reference to the Court.
