Learned counsel for the revisionist submit that the opposite party no.2 is wedded wife and opposite party nos.3 is the son of the revisionist. On account of mutual mis-understanding the present case was filed by the opposite party no.2 and there is possibility of amicable settlement of dispute between the parties. Learned counsel further urged that this case may be referred to the Mediation Centre of this Court so that they may have a chance to settle their dispute on their own terms through mediation. In order to show his bona fide the revisionist is ready to deposit Rs. 20,000/- to be handed over to the opposite party no.2 on her first appearance before Mediation.

The Court is also satisfied on the basis of the record and the submissions made before it that the nature of litigation is such that there is a chance to resolve the matter through process of mediation and an attempt ought to be made to explore that possibility.

Accordingly, the matter is being referred to the Mediation and Conciliation Centre, High Court, Allahabad. The revisionist will deposit Rs.85,000/- within a period of three weeks from today at the Mediation Centre through demand draft out of which Rs. 20,000/- shall be handed over to the opposite party no.2 on her first appearance out of which Rs.50,000/- shall be subject to adjustment in the amount of arrears of maintenance. It is further provided that Rs.5,000/- will remain deposited with the Mediation and Conciliation Centre, High Court, Allahabad.

The mediator is allowed two months' time to find out possible solution of the dispute between the parties and send his report to the court regarding the outcome of mediation.

Put up this matter after three months in the additional cause list before the appropriate Bench along with report of the Mediation and Conciliation Centre.

In the meantime, the operation of the order dated 19.07.2024 to the extent of payment of arrears of maintenance from the date of application to the date of order shall remain stayed.

However, it is directed that the revisionist shall continue to make payment of current amount of maintenance per month to the opposite parties.
