Mr. BiswabrataBasuMullick, Adv.
Mr. Nilotpal Chatterjee, Adv.
Mr. DebrajSahu, Adv.
Mr. DebangshuDinda, Adv.
...for the State.

The Court: The contemnor is appearing online.

Learned senior counsel appearing on behalf of the alleged contemnor submits that there has been an error in interpretation of the Rule issued by this Court which had directed the contemnor to appear personally in Court.

Since learned counsel for the alleged contemnor takes personal responsibility for such miscommunication, we deem the virtual appearance of the contemnor to be sufficient compliance of the Rule.

The contemnor shall file a reply to the Rule issued against her showing cause on January 17, 2025, on which date the matter shall next be listed at 10:30 am under the same heading. Leave is granted to the contemnor to appear online on the said date as well.

However, in the event there is any difficulty in the contemnor appearing online on the returnable date, she has to be personally present in Court on the said date.

An advance copy of the reply showing cause shall be handed over to the learned Advocate for the petitioner.
