It is argued before us that in the acquired land apart from a Samadhi there are other dwelling units. From the impugned order, we do not find that there is any other such structure apart from the Samadhi in the land which has been acquired. In our opinion, the High Court has rightly held that mere existence of a Samadhi does not entitle the owner from seeking the exemption of such land from acquisition.

The special leave petition is dismissed.

Delay condoned.
Issue notice.

The petitioner contends that in the land bearing Khasra Nos.773 and 774 which is now sought to be acquisitioned under the impugned acquisition notification, there are buildings. Therefore, according to the Policy of the Government ought to have been excluded from the acquisition proceedings.
