Learned counsel submits that the petitioners have already completed the jail sentence imposed on them. Hence, the last sentence in the order dated 8th September, 2000, "We direct the trial Magistrate to take prompt steps to take the petitioners back in jail", may create trouble. We made the said observation only as an alternative that if any period is left out to be served by them, they must be put back in jail for serving the remaining part of the jail sentence. It would not apply to them if they had already completed the jail sentence. With this clarification, the criminal miscellaneous petition is disposed of accordingly.
