Heard counsel for the petitioner.

While deciding an application for grant of injunction, the High Court has made certain observations only for the purpose of disposing of the injunction application and the findings thereon are only prima facie. These are observations which will not affect the decision of the Trial Court on merit and that may be decided on the basis of the evidence adduced before the Trial Court and the material placed before it.

With these observations, the special leave petition is dismissed.

Since the case involves a senior citizen who is stated to be about 70 years old, the Court
