The High Court has rejected the bail application filed by the petitioner. In our view there is no justifiable reason for interfering with the said order. However, learned counsel for the petitioner submits that some other accused, who were involved in the same case, are released on bail. In our view, that would hardly be a ground for releasing the petitioner on bail who is the main accused. Further, if the High Court has released some other accused erroneously on bail that also would not furnish a good ground for releasing the petitioner on bail. Hence this bail application is rejected. However, the trial court is directed to expedite the trial.

This special leave petition is dismissed accordingly.
