Learned counsel for the petitioner submitted that the trial has almost reached the final stage as all prosecution witnesses have been examined. But she pointed out another development which took place in the meanwhile. One of the respondents got himself involved in another criminal case on the allegation that he was in possession of 10 Kg. of heroine. In connection with that case the said respondent is still in custody and his application for bail has been rejected by the Special Judge and he has moved the High Court against the said order. Without prejudice to the proceedings pending in the Special Court either in the present case or in the second case said to have been initiated against him, we dispose of this Special Leave Petition.
